EDITORIAL MISSION

Lighting Today (LT) is an architectural lighting trade magazine based in Singapore and is published four times a year. Having been in circulation since 2001, Lighting Today has become an ideal platform to showcase projects and products to other professionals within the industry. Being one of the few lighting magazines in the region, Lighting Today provides readers with the latest news, projects and products, and has an aim of helping to band the network of lighting designers, architects, manufacturers, specifiers and suppliers together to create a brighter future for the architectural lighting industry.

PRINT

The print version of Lighting Today is read by many lighting designers, specifiers, architects and interior designers in the region and the readership has expanded worldwide in the recent years. With the inclusion of more international lighting design products, news and projects, readers are exposed to the latest showcase of technique and technology in the lighting industry and can seek inspiration from new and upcoming trends. Each issue of Lighting Today includes the following:

- Global and local news
- Press coverage of international trade events & exhibitions
- Lighting design projects
- Latest lighting products and technology
